Programme Coordinator
LULANIE SWANEPOEL

Duration
ONE DAY

Overview & Objectives

The internationally-recognised ISO 22000 food-safety management system enables companies to plan, implement, operate, maintain and update their food-safety management systems to ensure safe products.

The course equips staff responsible for controlling day-to-day activities who do not require system-development skills.

Course Objectives

To equip participants with the supervisory implementation knowledge of an ISO 22000 system. At the conclusion of the course, participants will be able to:

- Assist with the implementation process of the ISO 22000 system
- Control daily operations, in line with ISO 22000 requirements
- Complete the necessary records and actions in the event of nonconformance.

Outline

- Comparing standards ISO 22000 and ISO 9001:2015, SANS 10330:2007 and the BRC Global Standard
- Background to ISO 22000
- Overview of clauses 4-10, incl. requirements, documentation, etc
- Benefits of implementing the ISO 22000 standard
- Practical application: exercises and case studies

A certificate of attendance will be issued once the course has been successfully completed.
